

A Guideline on Training Standards for the Administration of Rectal Diazepam

Published by the Joint Epilepsy Council (JEC), September 2004

This guideline has been developed for those who deliver training in the administration of rectal diazepam, as well as for those who wish to purchase such training. The guideline is intended to establish a minimum standard of training which will apply throughout the UK and Ireland.

Issues covered include:

- core components of a training course
- trainer competency
- assessment
- re-training
- organisational policy
- individual care plans

Price: £5 per copy (including p&p)
